As we walk along the path of life
we have many Thoughts Along the Way
Thoughts of friends and the crazy times we spent.
Of teachers and sports, and special nights like Prom.
Of the hours spent at practices
and meetings,
working hard to achieve our goals.
The doors are thrown open in May,
as we step across a threshold in our lives.
With the path ahead of us,
we strive to obtain our ultimate goals.
We now endeavor to obtain success in the times ahead.

John Ringlein, the superintendent at St. Paul Schools for the past 14 years, is the behind-the-scenes man. He is the one, who makes the decisions and keeps the school running properly. It is his duty to make sure all aspects of the educational system at St. Paul meet state and federal regulations.

James Putman, the principal for the past 3 years, is the one who keeps the students in line and out of trouble. His job is possibly the one that takes the most abuse, but he has coped with all of the situations that have arisen, competently and with strong actions.

Mrs. Lillian Haggart, who has been with St. Paul Schools for 24 years, is the one who handles the business aspects of the school.

Miss Lisa Edwards has been helpful to the teachers by running off photocopies for them and distributing supplies.

Mrs. Fran Buhrman, the secretary for Mr. Putman and Mr. Brouillette, hands out admit slips, takes phone messages and keeps the principal and counselor in line.

Mrs. Ione Gillham is the one who keeps the activities office moving smoothly and takes care of the daily announcements.

The governing body of the school, the school board, consists of elected members that serve for one year or more if re-elected. They make all the major decisions and approve any policy changes. At the board meetings on the first Monday night of each month, bills are approved, decisions are made, and changes are discussed.

The 1981-82 school year activities began even before the school year. The cheerleaders, volleyball and football teams were hard at practice during the early mornings and late nights, which helped build their successful year.

Then "The Day" arrived. Speeches by Mr. Putman and Student Council President Micki Wissing got the year off to an "enthusiastic" start. The Student Council presented a variety show skit. Some of the acts included "The Pepsi Challenge," a mock cheerleading try-out, and a spoof of the "Gong Show". Then the students wandered off to class with "Thoughts Along the Way" of the year to come.

"Where's the other team?"

"All right you bums, listen for the signal!"

The volleyball team was practicing spikes even before school started.

Dawnell and Liana gracefully exhibit a pony mount.

"Hey, who turned out the lights? What are you feeding me?"

The Pepsi Challenge came to St. Paul's Unity Day.

Harvest of Harmony Marches On

Eight trombones led the big parade.

Stacie smiles at the crowd.

The 1981 Harvest of Harmony parade took place in Grand Island on October 3. Our queen candidate was Stacie Stott. The band marched through the streets playing "Dear Ol' Nebraska" and "Dallas." The drum majorette was Shelley Stepanek and the banner carriers were Kristin Olsen and Brenda Potter.

Some of Stacie's thoughts about the experience were, "I'm grateful for the opportunity to have participated in the Harvest of Harmony parade. It was a great experience for me as I learned a lot and met a lot of people. I wish the best of luck to the candidate next year."

The junior class of St. Paul, along with Elba, participated in County Government Day. This is the first time in three years that the whole class has attended the morning session of the event. The students witnessed a mock trial then separated into small groups and were shown around to the different offices while their functions were explained. Then students were treated to a meal at the Legion Club. After dinner the elected officers went back to the court house to learn more about the duties of their elected office while the remaining juniors went back to classes. Shelly Stepanek commented, "Being elected as an official, I have learned a lot about government I didn't know before." This day is a way to help students understand and develop an interest in government.

Cats are Cruisin'

October 9, 1981 was the scene of a spirited crowd, enthusiastic cheerleaders, and a victorious football team. To prove that the "Wildcats are Cruising," St. Paul's Wildcats dominated Wood River with a score of 16 to 7.

Chosen as the royal king and queen were Kevin Preisendorf and Micki Wissing. The royal couple was crowned by 1980 King and Queen Spirit is flying high as the car parade gets under way.

The Annual Christmas Convocation was held on the afternoon of December 23. There were many carols performed by the High School Chorus, Jr. High Choir, Sr. High Band, Jr. High Band, Swing Choir, and Triple Trio. Some songs were unfamiliar and others were traditional.

Two very popular carols were revised, one of which was "Jingle Bells." The Swing Choir sang it the way it might have come down through the ages. The other song revised was "The Twelve Days of Christmas," sung by Tim Scheer, Amy Buhrman, Sally Wall, Annette Nielsen, and Brenda Potter, while the remainder of the Student Council acted out the verses, which are as follows:

Over all, the Christmas Convoca-tion was a big success this year.

Both the Jr. and Sr. High Bands played seasonal songs.

Chris and Bryan show that they are not chicken to show their school spirit.

Spirit Week 1981 was a sure way to activate everybody's spirit. The week consisted of hat and glasses day, punk rock day, grub day, inside-out day, and, of course, the traditional blue and gold day. Punk Rock Day proved to be the most popular by far. Not only did the students get involved, but the teachers did as well. This was proven when Miss Kummer took the title of "Most Spirited Teacher of the Week." Once again Spirit Week proved to be a great incentive for the whole school.

Punk Rock invades the usually quiet halls of SPHS.

Green hair, wild glasses, and neckties are a part of Julie and Lisa's every day attire.

Juniors Curt, Kelly, and Zab go incognito as punk rock starts.

More Homecoming

As Spirit Week slowly progressed, we came down to The Day. Friday was filled with great excitement as the car parade got underway. The parade was then concluded with a pep rally uptown.

Both reserve and varsity volleyball teams were fired up for the fight against Wood River. Although they worked hard and put up a fine effort, the volleyball team lost both games.

That night, under the "power" of Ted Nugent, the SPSHS Football Team proved to be a great success by cruising all over Wood River.

The football team shows great enthusiasm during the Homecoming parade.

Don't Coach Kruger and "Wally" know that it is inappropriate to kiss on a "blind" date?

Tim Jarecke uses his car to display the football team's idol — Ted Nugent.

Mr. Owen formally educates Tammy and Jarie on the fine art of grubbing.

Parent-Teacher Conferences Nov. 5

Parent-Teacher Conferences at St. Paul Public School are scheduled for Thursday evening, November 5th from 6:30-9:00 and on Friday, November 6th from 8:00-3:00. There will be no school for students on Friday.

Parent-Teacher Conferences are planned for the definite purpose of providing communication between the home and school concerning the students' progress.

Other purposes for the conferences are:

DEDICATION

Mr. Tom Willnerd

We, the class of 1982, wish to dedicate our annual to Mr. Tom Willnerd.

In the five years that Mr. Willnerd has been at St. Paul, he has taught physical science and eighth grade science. He has served as junior high football coach, junior high wrestling coach, and assistant coach for the varsity wrestlers.

Mr. Willnerd's innovations have made his classes interesting. He presents movies, labs and television shows that make science a fun field to study.

We seniors wish to show our respect and gratitude to this inspiring teacher. He has been a friend to us as well as an instructor, and he offers words of encouragement to everyone.

The 1981-82 school year went smoothly for all involved. The administration commented that they had a "quality staff to work with."

At the beginning of the year a pep talk by Mr. Putman set the tone. "Enthusiasm" was to be the key word.

The faculty worked hard to innovate their students to make lessons more interesting. The staff welcomed back several members who had been here before. A few first time teachers were added for new blood and new ideas. All in all, it was a successful year.

Senior disease testing

Senioritis.

It isn't a disease that a doctor would diagnose or a medical journal would list in its appendix. Yet it is something that is far from rare, occasionally at epidemic proportions and sometimes, someplaces, a fatal little fiend.

Lots of us have senioritis at this moment. I have it at this moment.

In my case, senioritis found its way into my system as junior year came to a close. I had been fine the night before, out with friends preparing themselves to be graduated from this institution. We drank ourselves into philosophical discussion:

"What are you going to do with your life, Chaz?" one of my almost-history companions asked.

"Well, I..." Senioritis. My life? My future?

Seniors can avoid trouble

by Chuck Gavin

Although problems with credit evaluations at the Registrar's Office are a common complaint among students, it may be the students themselves causing the problem.

There are two types of evaluations done by the registrar's staff: the major-minor check and the graduation request. They are the pre-graduation request and the senior evaluation.

The program evaluation is actually a check of the student's requirements and the major-minor checksheet, which is forwarded to the students' advisers. The major-minor checksheet is completed by the advisers and returned to the registrar's office. The student and the adviser each get one copy of the general studies and major-minor checksheets; another set of copies is filed at the Registrar's Office.

"The program evaluation request should be made early during a student's first semester as a junior," says Young.

"By the time a student is a junior, he has completed enough courses for the Registrar's Office to do a meaningful evaluation.

"Problems arise when the students come en masse. Pre-registration seems to prompt this, since we really get bogged down at that time. During the first 12 days of November, we received 173 requests for evaluations.

"Under normal conditions, the students will usually receive their copies within one week after they made the request. It depends upon the work flow at the time."

Young suggested that students make their requests as early as possible prior times, they forget about the paperwork involved.

"It's really up to the student up with the requirements to graduation and to know should apply for evaluation.

The senior check, frequently with the program evaluation request, is actually an update program evaluation. It involves the staff to review courses since the evaluation was done.

The senior check may be during the first semester of year and is automatically transferred to the students application for graduation.

The registrar's staff reviews students' requirements and transcripts to confirm that all requirements are fulfilled prior to graduation.

The deadlines for an application to graduate are: October 1 for graduates, March 1 for May graduates, and July 1 for August graduates.

If students wait until the time to apply for graduation, the staff is again bogged down, says Young. Graduating students should apply as early as possible during

The senior class had a very active year participating in sports, plays, and organizations. Some of the highlights of their final year included a Homecoming victory over Wood River, two state wrestlers, and several All-Conference and All-Area ball players. Early in the year the sophomore class elected the class officers. Under the direction of Mr. Fruit, the class did various activities, among them were painting the window uptown for Homecoming which placed second and decorating the class car.

The sophomore class was also very active in extracurricular activities. Sophomores played an important role in supporting and participating in sports. In Cross Country they had three of the five girls on the team, and helped to make this year's the largest team in history. In football several were effective and very important to the varsity squad. Basketball and wrestling also showed the skills of this class. Track was also a proving point for these young stars.

Sports, however, were not the only area of interests. Many sophomores were important in drama, whether it was a supporting role in the Three-Act or a lead in the musical. Chorus and Band also saw a large number of sophomores (cont. pg 41)

The freshmen, along with their sponsor Mrs. Martinson, had an exciting year. The first place awards for both the Homecoming window decorating contest and the car parade were won by the spirit-filled freshmen.

The sixty-one members of the class felt that their small size, compared to the other classes, was a detriment during the new spirit competition at pep rallies. But, according to the class members, they made up for it in other areas. Many of the classmates excelled in individual activities and the class as a whole is looking forward to competing in next year's activities and being in organizations.

Junior High Girls Split Games With Ord

The Junior High girls again split in basketball action Tuesday night. The first game saw the seventh grade lose to Ord by a score of 18-8, followed by the eighth grade game with St. Paul coming out on top 22-14.

Ord fielded an exceptionally fine 7th grade team and jumped to an early 6-0 first quarter lead. St. Paul countered with four quick points in the second half to cut the score to 6-4 before Ord gathered themselves and scored the final four in the quarter making it 10-4.

Much of the third quarter was as the first with Ord scoring 8 and St. Paul none and making the score 18-4. St. Paul went with the full court press in the fourth quarter and held Ord scoreless but could muster only 4 points themselves.

Coach Brouillette mentioned that the back to back games really didn't give the 7th graders a chance to go over their mistakes from Monday. He also commented that the girls worked exceptionally hard never giving up as can be seen by the 17 steals, many in the last quarter, during the game. Unfortunately the steals too often turn into points as they only shot 13 percent from the field. Brouillette also mentioned that Ord was one of the shooting young teams seen.

Leading in steals was Diane Kasson, Tenise Schmaljohn, and apiece followed by M. Crouch and Stephanie with 2 each.

St. Paul was led in the rebounding department by Bert Derman with 4 and Diane Kasson and Kim Gleason with 2 each. Leading in assists were Diane Kasson and Tenise Schmaljohn, and leading in rebounds was Diane Kasson with 3, followed by Bert Alderman and Kim Gleason with 2 each.

JR. HIGH CHOIR TO PRESENT 'TEEN'
Remember when you were a teen? Thursday night's performance of "Teen" will bring back memories of those years. The St. Paul Junior High Choir will be presenting the musical "Teen" on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gym. Admission is free. The story and songs relate to a teenager's weekend, including the telephone conversations, the school dance and party. Mrs. Suzanne Phillips, instructor, urges everyone to "please come and see."

over and intimidated them, shooting throughout the quarter. St. Paul went cold the second quarter not scoring but could not muster a scoreless quarter.

Ord in comeback scoring before St. Paul 4 of the girls gathered themselves and scored the final four in the quarter making it 10-4.

This was a satisfying team to watch as seven points were scored.

Again, poor shooting percent. St. Paul Keller Leslie Carpenter Shairee Boehle with 1.

Coach Brouillette commented he was pleased with the girls' play. He said all the girls earned the following badges: Good Grooming, Group Sports, First Aid, Child Care, Dressmaker, Family Living, Graphic Arts, Handy-woman, Homemaker, Home Nurse, Hostess, Painting, Sports, Chef and Stamp Collector.

All girls, 6-17 years of age and parents are invited to a display of last year's accomplishments on September 11th at 2:30-3:00 at the Band Room at the High School. Information and registration meeting for parents and girls were held at the High School on Friday, September 8th. Girls were awarded pins and certificates.

Junior Troop 304, under leadership of Cindy Crouch and Joan Greisen, worked on several badges and patches. Patches were Crazy Days of Summer and Fires of Friendship. Badges were: Sports Sampler, Songster, First Aid, Personal Health, Group Sports, Storyteller, Textiles, and Fibers, My Community, Active Citizen, Individual Sports, Skater, Math Whiz, Hospitality, Books, Pen Pal, Toymaker, Housekeeper, Collector, Backyard Fun, Do-it-Yourself, My Camera, Writer, Pets, My

The junior high were very active in sports this year. Their effort is always appreciated as it will help boost ability in the senior high years. The teams did well this year, which makes future prospects bright.

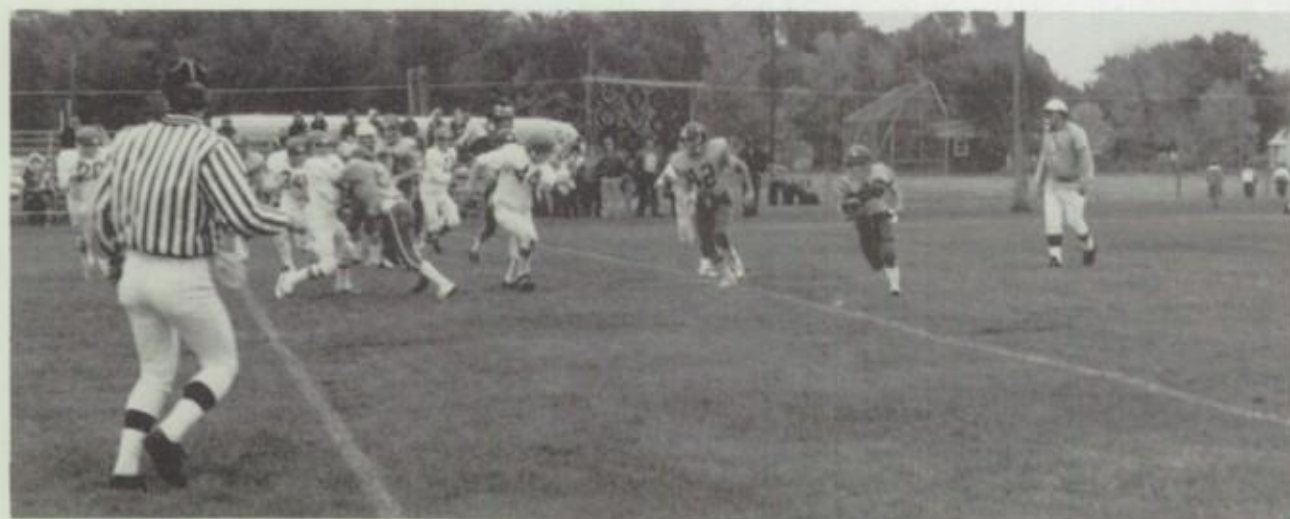

The junior high also had new opportunities this year to express themselves in extracurricular activities other than sports. The many students interested in music and drama had a treat as the youth got to perform their own musical, TEEN, and got to perform in the three act play, DEADLY EARNEST. Both presentations were greatly enjoyed by the public. Band and chorus were also among the interests enjoyed by the junior high this year. These two grades show a lot of talent that is just waiting to be developed.

St. Paul Cross Country Team Largest In History Of The Sport

The biggest team ever in St. Paul High School Cross Country greeted Tom Schacht this season with 15 boys and seven girls out for the sport. Schacht, who is in his tenth year at St. Paul, is an enthusiastic booster of the sport, of all sports for that matter. Schacht played four years of football, basketball, track and baseball in high school and followed that with one year of cross country in three.

The whole bunch makes that first leap across the line.

The 1981-82 cross country season marked the first in the history of St. Paul for having a full girls' team. Pioneer woman Dawnell Owen, the only senior and returning letter person, provided leadership and experience.

The girls, known as the "Hill Women," were young with four out of the five returning for next year's team. Sophomore Lynnette Jacobs proved her value by medalling at every invitational meet she was in. Two other valuable sophomores were Kathy Kulwicki and Kathy Gawrych, who will be two big factors for next year's team. Junior Janet Rasmussen proved, to herself and the team, how

"The girls had a good year, and just having a full team made it a lot more fun. Hard work paid off in the end with a third place in the Conference and a supreme 10 out of 22 in the state," commented Coach Schacht.

The 1981-82 boys' cross country team had a lot of inter-team competition with twelve boys competing for the top five varsity spots. The team was very young with four of the top five runners eligible for competition again next year.

Sophomore Duane Brumbaugh ran number one for the Cats most of the year. It was a fight for the next four positions between Seniors Mike Rawlings, Bill Jensen, Juniors Tim Walch, Randy Berst, and Sophomores Pat Powell, and Lee Dunbar.

"It was exciting and interesting to have so many runners so close in ability. I never knew who was going to come in first for our team," commented Coach Schacht.

The 1981-82 Varsity and Reserve Volleyball team worked very hard at every game. This year's team showed excellent skill and team work. Their fine and talented coaches, who provided great encouragement and spirit for the team were Mrs. Rudolf and Miss Hartman.

The highlight of the season was a win in two sets over Burwell, the conference champs.

With only four seniors out, this year's was a young team. Even though the volleyball teams did not have a winning season, all of them wait anxiously for next year's arrival.

"Hmmm, now what???" Coach Speece wonders.

After an 0-4 start, St. Paul finished the year in fine style by pummeling its last five opponents and gaining the conference runner-up trophy. A victory over Wood River on Homecoming got the season rolling. Burwell, Centura, Loup City, and Ravenna also fell to the mighty Wildcat grid- ders. The 16-12 win over Ravenna on Parents' Night was one of the highlights of the season. According to seniors Mark Kasson and Bryan Dodds, the turnabout was much attributed to hard work, excellent coaching, and the confidence-building win at Loup City.

For the season, St. Paul gained a whopping 2337 yards in nine games. The Wildcats got 170 total points, for an average of over 18 per game. The offense ground out a total of 122 first downs and was aided by 12 fumble recoveries and one blocked punt.

The team will be losing twelve seniors who were, according to Coach Speece, very instrumental in helping turn the football program around. With a seasoned group of underclassmen expected to participate again next year, the future looks good.

The girls' basketball team ended the season with a varsity record of 2-14 and a reserve record of 3-7. The girls played a very tough schedule this year by playing Grand Island Northwest twice, and Burwell, Albion, and Cedar Rapids each once. Those were all teams that went to state. They played very well at times, playing some very close games. with Gibbon for second place, one point behind the first place Wood River team.

At Conference we had three champions: Pat, Donny, and Gary. The second place winners were Craig and Mitch. Third places were taken by Mike R. and Lonnie. Tom, Mark, and Brad took fourth.

The four guys who qualified for state were Don Barleen, Mike Rawlings, Mitch Stoltenberg, and Pat Hellwege. Of those four, Mike came back with a sixth place win. This topped off a high performance season for Mike, who had placed in the top four of every tournament except state.

Donny also came back with a second place win to conclude a career record of 7-9-1. He was conference and district champion four times and had placed fourth, third, and now second in the state tournament.

The team will definitely miss the three seniors (Don, Mike, and Brad), but Coach Kruger stated, "We are looking for leadership from our nine returning lettermen and are looking forward to a good season next year."

Boys track averages 10 medals per meet

Go on, Mr. Schmaderer, jump right in there!

The 1982 boys' track team showed great potential throughout the year, and even though no one qualified for state, the year was successful. Tim Jacobsen and Tim Wosleben, both seniors, were the leaders for first year track coach Shane Fruit. In five of the major meets, the team brought home 56 medals and ribbons. The next few years look promising as fifteen of the lettermen were underclassmen.

Girls Have Record-Setting Year

The 1982 track season found a young, but successful girls' team breaking four school records, placing fourth in all but one invitational and third at Conference. Jamie Helzer led the record breaking as she broke her own record in the 3200 meter run, with a time of 12:22.6, and the 1600 meter run in 5:46.0. Laura Reimers also set a new mark in the discus with a throw of 118'7". The 3200 meter relay team of Kathy Kulwicki, Renee Kulwicki, Lynnette Jacobs, and Julie Jarecke set a new time at 10:34.3. All of the girls are also underclassmen.

Kathy Gawrych was the only state qualifier for the girls. She placed third at the district meet in the 400 meter run. Four other underclassmen Coach Schacht concluded, "All in all, I was pleased, but by no means am I satisfied! I hope next year finds the girls' team stronger, more willing to win and sacrifice, and more experienced."

J. Olsen, D. Gillham, C. Jorgensen, M. Rawlings, and Coach Crouch.

The golf season ended this year with the B-3 district tournament at Grand Island Municipal Golf Course. The season highlight was when the team brought home the second place trophy from the conference tournament. Playing at conference were John Olsen, Mike Rawlings, Chris Jorgensen, Don Gillham, and Lisa Gillham, at which John and Mike medalled, placing fourth and seventh respectively.

The meet that garnered the most medals was the Centura Invitational, at which John placed fourth, Chris placed sixth, and Mike placed ninth. John also placed fourteenth at the GICC Invitational.

7th and 8th Grade Girls Split Opening Games

The St. Paul girls junior high basketball team opened their season at home against Centura Monday, November 16. The outcome was a split decision with Centura taking the 7th grade game 19-12 and St. Paul winning the 8th grade game by a twelve point margin, 24-12.

Inexperience was evident in the 7th grade game as a fine Centura team outscored the 'Cats 16-6 in the first three quarters. With the help of the press and good hustle by the girls the team made a run at Centura in the final quarter before Centura finally put the game away. Centura's height was definitely a factor in the game as they consistently were able to put up four to five shots each time down the court.

The young 'Cats shot well, 40 percent from the field, but were usually able to get only one shot off each time. St. Paul received six points from Stephanie Ogard, four from Michelle Crouch and two from Mandy Jacobsen. Centura was led by Missy Bellamy and Val Tuma with six apiece. Another good bump by Julie.

Good job, Brenda.

Good bump, Jackie!

The ninth grade girls, coached by Miss Jacobsen, did not have a winning season, but improved as they progressed. They began the year in fine style by defeating Loup City. Their other win was over Central City at home. Even though they ended the season with a 2-4 record, the girls fought hard. According to Miss Jacobsen, Julie Jarecke and Missy Jacobsen were instrumental in supporting the whole team. Brenda Potter and Sonia Johnson also added momentum to the inexperienced group. As Kim DeKok added, "It was a learning experience that I'm sure will help us next year." And Sonia Johnson summarized by saying that although they had a losing year, it would separate those girls who really want to play from those who don't, which should help next year's team.

The freshmen football team was a big success this year, partly because they got to play with the reserves and varsity. There weren't enough freshmen guys out, so they started playing with the sophomores. And, before they knew it, they started practicing with the varsity and reserves. Then some got the chance to play on varsity.

According to Stacey Osterman, "This was good experience for all of us to play varsity and reserve football. Our coaches and we were pleased with the way we played."

Outstanding Young Grapplers

The referee examines the situation.

The junior high sports are important to more than just the junior high. Super varsity athletes have their start in junior high years, so the coaches are always on the look-out for potential. The wrestlers had six matches in November and December, making for a short but satisfying season.

The track people had an excellent season. They placed high in several meets, including a second place win at the Wood River Triangular and a win at the Central City Triangular. Both the boys and girls relay teams did great, and enough people were out for the sport that they could trade off. So, according to Coach Speece, "They have progressed quite well this year. They should help the varsity program in a year or two."

At Judging Contest

On December 10, nine St. Paul FFA members traveled to Loup City for the second annual Loup City FFA Judging Contest. The contest consisted of six classes of livestock, with questions on three classes. The St. Paul judges had a good night. In the team competition the St. Paul team of Nancy, Theresa and Dan Smydra placed first out of 20 teams with a score of 913 points. Another St. Paul team consisting of Linda Hirschman, Donna Schimonitz and Annette Nielsen placed 9th with a score of 859 points.

In individual competition St. Paul's Dan Smydra won first place topping the other 75 judges in the contest with a score of 319 points. Theresa open to the public. Admission is $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for students.

This annual clinic will be under the direction of Dr. Eph

Last year the choir total approximately 850 members and this year's choir is expected to be around that figure well.

Drill Team Exhibits Precision

and gloves during their half-time performances with routines brought back from a summer camp. At this camp, Stacie Stott and Sheila Verley, representatives of the Drill Team, brought home four ribbons, one of which was for second place in final competition. First year sponsor, Mrs. Fruit said, "I am pleased with the effort of the girls and thoroughly enjoyed working with them throughout the year." Mrs. Fruit was thought of as one of the "new girls" and not our new sponsor. She was a great help on working out routines.

Spirit Stick Inspires Classes

The 1981-82 Cheerleaders: L. Jorgenson, L. Rose, S. Wissing, T. Ringlein, J. Helzer, Captain L. Ruzicka, D. Owen, J. Hammack.

During the summer the St. Paul Cheerleaders attended the International Cheerleading camp at Wayne State College at Wayne. For winning a ribbon during the first night of evaluation St. Paul received the Award of Excellence Pins, the highest award for the International Cheerleading Foundation. Their efforts won them third place in the Grand Competition against twenty-eight other squads. Team ribbons received were two for overall excellence, two for sparkle and shine, and a ribbon for creativity. St. Paul also won the spirit stick for being the most spirited squad of the day. At Grand Competition the St. Paul Cheerleaders took home a Spirit

Frisbee for maintaining their spirit throughout the entire days of camp.

The 1981-82 sports season brought on a new surge of spirit in our school. The Cheerleaders introduced the spirit stick and a growing competition between the classes began. Some of the highlights at the Pep Rallies were the obstacle course, the whipped cream shooting contest, and the lico-rice eating contest. Captain, Lori Ru-zicka, is quoted as saying, "This year was very successful and the girls were a lot of fun to work with. And I wish the new cheerleaders the best of luck in the 1982-83 season."

Student Council Hard workers behind the scenes

Everybody looks "psyched up" for the film festival.

The Student Council, sponsored by Mr. Schmaljohn, has the following members.

Senior Class — Micki Wissing Bahensky (Pres.)
Sue Harrahill
Stacie Stott (Vice Pres.)
Junior Class — Mitch Stoltenberg
Liana Rose (Secretary)
Dennis Placke
Soph. Class — Tim Scheer
Suzy Mamot
Craig Everett
Fresh. Class — Brenda Potter
Joe Janke
Amy Buhrman
Band — Sally Wall
FHA — Pam Reed (Treasurer)
FFA — Annette Nielsen
S.P. Club — Donny Barleen
Thespians — Dawnell Owen (Hist./Reporter)

The film festival, featuring PSYCHO and THE LITTLE RASCALS, was a great success.

The Student Council, after being elected in the Spring, assumes its duties on the very first day of school by presenting a skit to entertain all the new students.

Some of the responsibilities of the organization go by unnoticed. For example, in rain or snow, cold or heat, the members change the marquee to announce upcoming events. Also, the members take turns taking tickets at athletic events.

One of the highlights of this year's Christmas Convocation was a skit based on "The Twelve Days of Christmas" put on by the Student Council.

Other projects included the traditional film festival and a talent contest, which greatly pleased the student body.

Outstanding Athletes in Three Sports Honored

At the Athletic Banquet held at Paul's Supper Club on April 27, Teresa Ringlein was named Outstanding Girl Athlete (and was also awarded the coveted Babe Ruth award, along with Tim Jacobsen, at the Awards Day Ceremonies) and Donny Barleen was named Outstanding Boy Athlete. The two were very deserving of the honor and everyone was well pleased with the selection.

Among the other activities of the evening, the three sport letter winners were announced. The members of this elite group included G. Pflepsen, J. Olsen, T. Wolsleben, T. Kasson, T. Jacobsen.

J. Rasmussen, C. Everett, D. Barleen, G. Ewers, M. Janky, C. Beck, M. Rawlings, A. Zabka.

R. Kulwicki, K. Gawrych, T. Ringlein, J. Helzer, K. Kulwicki, and D. Owen.

These students are to be commended for their excellence in both academics and sports.

M. Kasson, B. Dodds, T. Svoboda, J. Olsen, and M. Rawlings.

Although they usually have a pretty good idea, the members of these two groups don't know whether or not they've made it until Awards Day.

Both are very elite groups made up of the cream from both the academic and sports fields.

The National Honor Society's requirements are that a student maintain a 90 or better average in class and be a sophomore, junior or senior. That means that it gets more difficult as you get older because you have to have the 90 average in the previous years' studies also.

The National Athletic Honor Society is made up of seniors only. They, too, have to have a 90 or better average in all classes plus have lettered in a sport. So, it is quite an honor, as the names imply, to be a member of either or both of these groups.

FHA Strives for Improvement

The bottom picture shows those students who were selected to go to State FHA Convention, which was held in March. Of those who went to Lincoln, Kathy Gawrych was elected as District 13 Secretary and Renee Kulwicki was elected to the state Executive Council.

Kathy Gawrych commented about the experience, "Going to State FHA Convention was very exciting for me since I was running for a district office. I hope to go again next year and run for a state office." Becky Gawrych said, "This, as my second year, was even more fun and enriching than the first." And Carmin Peterson nicely summed up everybody's feelings by saying, "This was a meaningful experience and it was interesting to meet new people."

The FHA was busy throughout the school year with school improvement and community projects. One of the membership activities during the fall was a powder puff football game followed by a watermelon feed. The FHA week consisted of a tee-shirt day and on Wednesday there was a breakfast for teachers and the members of FHA and FFA. Thursday was highlighted by pictures and writings in the local newspaper. FHA week concluded with a dance on Friday night with John Olsen playing. The money earned from this dance went to the fund for the construction of the National FHA building. Many members participated in various competitions throughout the year.

The school year ended with an elementary talent show and a March of Dimes Superwalk. Other projects included: Visiting Parkside Plaza, providing morning refreshments to the residents; teaching the elementary students about Halloween and winter safety; sponsoring a school birthday calendar in the cafeteria monthly with birthdays of students 7-12 and faculty; sponsoring a pre-school hour at holidays, entertaining young children; and visiting Abel's Nursing Home providing refreshments and playing games.

The Livestock Judging Teams did excellent work this year. The senior team placed first of 64 teams participating at Ericson on January 6. The junior team placed fifth out of 16. Here Carol shows her 30th place ribbon, Theresa her 6th, Terry his 4th, and Annette, not shown, placed 18th. Individual places on the junior team were Dan Smydra first, Rod Placke 21st, Lynnette Jacobs 25th and Shawn Nowak 42nd.

The St. Paul FFA Chapter did very well at the State Convention held in Lincoln April 1-3. Forty-six members attended and participated in 12 contests. Mr. Malone said, "I thought the kids did a good job of representing St. Paul in the tests. Only about half of the students in a contest received ribbons, so we did a good job of placing high. It has been a very good year. Purple ribbons were given to Donna Schimonitz, Randy Derst, Dick Harrahill, Jay Meyer, and Nancy Smydra.

The FFA had a busy schedule this year. The seven officers attended NAYI and two members went to the Twin Valley Livestock Judging Contest and Show.

The chapter moved the FFA barn and cemented it for their BOAC project. They participated in the Howard County Fair and the District Land Judging Contest at Neligh. Early in the year they sponsored their Second Annual Pancake Feed and Slave Auction. The members attended Husker Harvest Days in Grand Island and participated in the State Fair, the Loup City Livestock Judging Contest and the Fullerton Livestock Judging Contest and they won the District Livestock Division. All in all, it was a satisfying year, one of completing their motto: Building tomorrows today.

Linda Hirschman, Carol Nabity, and Terry Williams received the honor of earning State Farmer Degrees at State Convention. Carol also placed in the State Proficiency Awards with her fruit and vegetable production making her eligible for Regional competition. At the convention in Lincoln, three St. Paul members got to sing in the FFA Chorus. They were Linda Hirschman, Annette Nielsen, and Donna Schimonitz.

The final event of the year was the 40th Annual Banquet. Carol Nabity was named Star Chapter Agri-Business Person and Terry Williams was the Star Chapter Farmer. Star Greenhand Award went to James Scheer.

During FFA Week the initiates were easily recognized by their green hands or long noses.

Thespians Grow in Numbers

"I am Dr. Earnest."

"Watanya Cicilia, you now my daughter," Sitting Bull tells Annie.

"Oh, this indigestion is about to kill me," John says as Lori begins to walk away.

Bill Jensen, Denise Lewandowski, Lynnette Jacobs, Kristin Olsen, Janet Rasmussen, and Tim Scheer all received "excellents" at Districts.

The 1981-82 Thespians grew considerably as they added 14 new members, but lost five seniors. Some were added through their speaking abilities while most were added through their acting or backstage help.

At the Conference Speech Contest,

The officers were President Bill Jensen, Vice President Lori Ruzicka, Student Council Representative Dawnell Owen, Secretary Donna Schimonitz, and Treasurer Chris Jorgensen.

As everyone else prepares for rehearsal, Chris and Lori pose for pictures.

Dawnell checks out Tim's silver hair as Bill and Lori look to the camera.

Janet Rasmussen, Dawnell Owen, Anne Zabka, Kristin Olsen, and Julie McClellan received "Excellents" for their various speeches and readings. At District Speech, some of the contestants had the same judges that they had at Conference. For some it proved to be advantageous, but for others it wasn't.

President Bill gets in on the action of painting the windows for Homecoming.

Large crowds gathered to watch both the Fall and Spring performances. The fall three-act play, DEADLY EARNEST, proved to be a big success. The Spring musical had many Thespians and musicians in the presentation of ANNIE GET YOUR GUN.

As Annie and Mrs. Potter-Porter chat, sitting Bull looks on with his plate of food.

On February 6, about 180 bandpersons from the seven conference schools met in St. Paul for auditions to become members of the conference Honor Band. One hundred sixteen were chosen to rehearse and present a concert in Burwell on March 13 with Mr. Duane E. Johnson of Hastings College as guest conductor. After rehearsing four hours on Saturday afternoon, the Honor Band presented its concert to a full audience. Individual groups from the member schools also performed. St. Paul sent its Flute Trio.

After a 20 year career at St. Paul, Mr. Owen decided to move on. He ended the year on a fine note at the Spring Concert. The parents and public enjoyed seeing and hearing the instrumental talents of the youth.

The marching band performed at Harvest of Harmony, the half-time band put on several fine exhibitions at the home football games, and the pep band supported St. Paul at games and pep rallies.

The Spring season was spent in preparation for the various performances. The Spring Concert headed the schedule, followed by District Music Contest, at which only small groups competed this year. The pit band helping with the musical was a highlight of the season.

The final performance of the band was playing the traditional songs at Commencement.

The six guys make a small, but mighty portion of the choir.

Everybody talks as Mrs. Philippi takes roll, but . . . they look like a group once they start singing.

"Everyone up for warm-ups," — and once again a day in chorus begins. Warming up the voice is an important preparation for practicing the music for programs.

And there were programs to rehearse for. All students participated in the Conference Vocal Music Clinic held in Gibbon in the fall. The Chorus, along with the bands and other small performing groups, presented the traditional Christmas convocation. And in the spring, the "On Broadway" show was given by the choir and other vocal groups.

Spring also brings district music contest in which the Girl's Glee, Swing Choir, Triple Trio, and other solos, duets, and a quartet competed.

To finish up the year all members were involved in the production of "Annie Get Your Gun."

In the fall, the extracurricular vocal groups were chosen after auditioning for Mrs. Philippi. The groups performing this year were Swing Choir and Girls Triple Trio.

In addition to performing for regular concerts and contest, these groups also performed for community events throughout the year, which is greatly appreciated.

Without a director, the girls aren't sure what to do.

In spite of practicing only 50 minutes per week, the Jr. High Chorus participated in several programs. In January, over 50 singers presented their first musical, entitled "Teen."

The choir also sang in the Spring Concert in March.

The junior high band shows its style while marching in the Homecoming Parade.

"Well, I guess a partial band is better than no band at all," says Mr. Owen.

The spotlights show the readiness of the chorus.

"I'm sorry, I didn't mean to do it!"

The junior high band started their year by marching in the Homecoming Parade. The group looked real sharp, everyone said, in their white pants and shirts and blue vests. The drum major and majorette were Mike Ostermeier and Gina Geller. Mike also helped the pit band for the musical. February 9 was the day of the Winter Band Concert, which showed much talent for the future.

AWARDS DAY

According to Mr. Bumpus, a bum who our hero Henry Gilcrest meets in a park, the usual price of exterminating a man's life by Earnest, a devious hitman who could be anybody, is $17.83 (the exact amount that Henry has to his name). After careful consideration (why not, he's just lost his job, his girlfriend, and his home). Henry agrees to the arrangement. But, when things take a turn for the better (he gets his job back, his girlfriend back, and his aunt takes him back into her boarding house), Henry wishes he'd never made the deal. Not knowing who is after him, except that the name is Earnest, Henry becomes extremely paranoid around not only strangers, but also friends and family whose names and actions take on mysterious suggestions of impending doom.

The hilarious result is that Sleepy,

Here's a demonstration of the show inside.

On April 30 and May 1, 1982, St. Paul High School presented its annual spring musical. This year's performance was "Annie Get Your Gun," a story of a hick girl that falls in love with Frank Butler, the star sharpshooter of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. Annie beats Frank in a shooting contest, and from then on it's a match between Annie and Frank, both in guns and in love.

The Spanish Club officers were President Pat, Vice President Jana, Secretary Carmin, and Treasurer Kathy.

The Spanish Club was revived this year after several years' absence. Most of the Spanish students belonged, although not all attended every meeting. Some of the activities of the group were tasting Spanish foods, caroling in Spanish at Christmas, having a guest speaker, video-taping skits, and going to Kearney for the foreign language day.

Seniors Discover Law-making Process

On November 23, 1981, the Seniors attended the Kearney State Political Forum. The topics of discussion were Abortion: Pro or Con and Defense of America: Are we number 1? Five of the resolutions drawn up by St. Paul were given consideration at the forum. The arguments for and against were so lengthy that not all of the resolutions were considered, including two of St. Paul's. One of the defense resolutions was sent into the general assembly, but failed to be considered.

The day at Kearney State gave the Seniors a first-hand look at how the government is run. It also showed them the tedious process that our law-makers go through to pass a bill. Mr. Kruger, the sponsor, said that the way the discussions were going they could have remained for several days.

Academic Excellence Recognized

Chris wonders who the next winner is. Will it be him?

On May 5, 1982 during the first period, many letters and awards were given out.

The coveted Babe Ruth Award for outstanding sports and academics went to Tim Jacobsen and Teresa Ringlein.

The Thespians grew greatly throughout the year, adding 14 new members.

The notorious Carl Walinda Flip-Flop Look-Alike After He Fell Award went to Shawn DeVore.

The senior class presented Mrs. Scarborough with a token of their appreciation for her unexalted years in the kitchen. She came to St. Paul High School as a cook in 1970 when the class of 1982 was in first grade. She became head cook in 1973.

Everyone anxiously awaits for their name to be called.

Lisa whispers to Kathy, "I told you I'd get one!"

One of the best kept secrets was who the annual would be dedicated to. When editor Bill Jensen made the announcement, Mr. Willnerd had to be taken from class to accept his award. Mr. Willnerd noted in an excellent impromptu speech that the class of '82 was special to him because he saw them first as seventh graders and got to watch them grow through the years.

Athletes Honored for Outstanding Work

As Donny tries to act nonchalant, Teresa practices her "O" imitations.

Tuesday night, April 27 was the date and Paul's Supper Club was the scene of the St. Paul High School Athletic Banquet. Many people were present to honor the athletes as they received their letters and awards, and all who came enjoyed hearing Tom Carlstrom, A University of Nebraska Offensive Lineman.

Carlstrom spoke of setting goals in life and not limiting your horizons. He said that his success on the football field and in the class room was because his father had told him, "Do the best you can." He said he realized he wasn't doing that, and so he started putting more effort into his performances and everything he did, and it paid off. His father died of cancer two years ago, so he has taken up his slogan and goes around telling others about it so that they will perform up to their potential and make something of their lives.

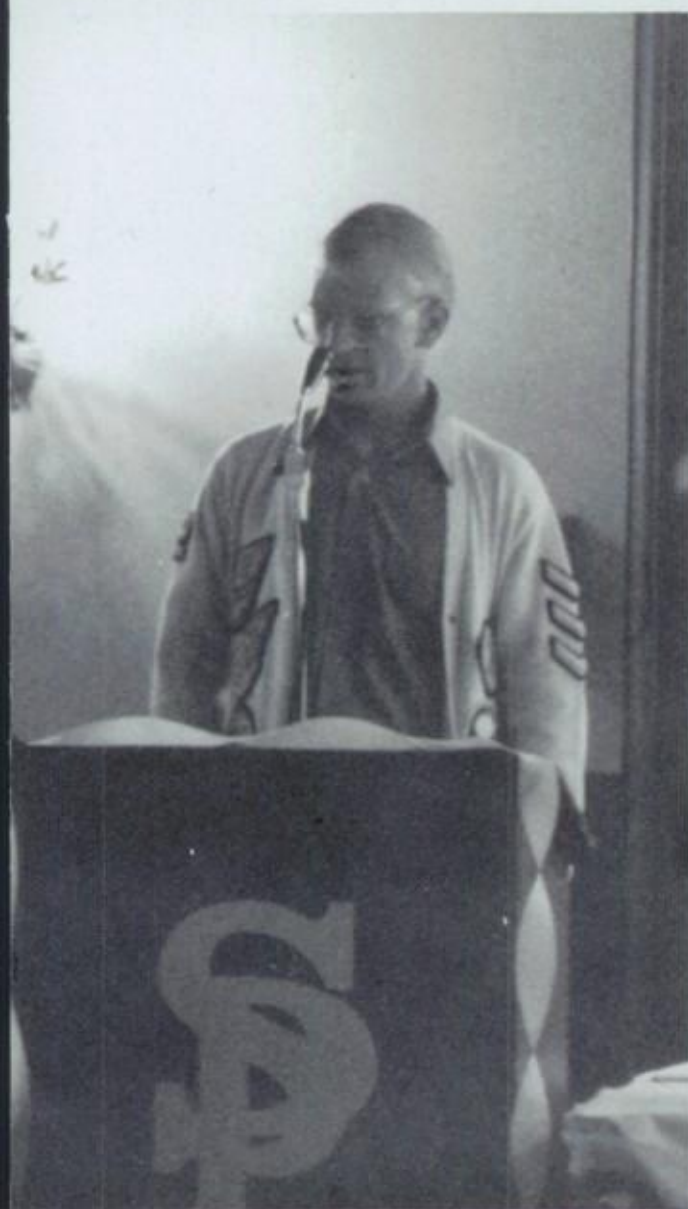

Carlstrom also said he would give professional football a chance, and the next day he was drafted by the New York Jets, making a dream come true for him.

Letters were presented in nine sports. Football was presented by Mr. Speece, volleyball by Mrs. Rudolf, wrestling by Mr. Kruger, cross country by Mr. Schacht, girls track by Mr. Schacht, boys basketball by Mr. Greenfield, girls basketball by Mr. Crouch, golf by Mr. Crouch, and boys track by Mr. Fruit. Mr. Speece then presented the three sport letter awards and Mr. Greenfield announced this year's outstanding girl and boy athletes — Teresa Ringlein and Donny Barleen.

Mr. Fruit promises to give a "short" speech.

After the meal, the crowd relaxes while they wait for the speeches to begin.

Because the president of the S.P. Club traditionally has the honor of welcoming the guests, introducing the guest speaker, and closing the evening's festivities, Jake had the opportunity to be at the podium several times during the evening.

Don't Stop Believin'

"Ow, don't poke me!" Kevin tells Renee.

The prom waiters and waitresses were Rod Placke, Mike Janky, Kevin Mamot, Craig Everett, Lisa Placke, Suzy Brouillette, Susie Mamot, and Jamie Helzer.

"It's down that hall and the first door on the left," Janet tells Tonia.

Russ asks, "What do you mean my name's not on there?"

Is Jill dreaming of Darron or is she bored with Prom?

Everyone looks the other way as John swoops in for a kiss.

Excitement ran high during the day of May 7 as everyone anxiously awaited the dance. This was no typical Friday night dance featuring taped disco music, but a real live band, called the Jolly Rogers, came to perform for The Formal Dance of the year — Prom.

The evening started out with a nice meal of steak, potatoes, salad, and roll. Annette Zabka read a short poem, Liana Rose gave a short speech, and Shelley Stephanek gave a short prayer.

After the meal, everyone enjoyed dancing to the band, which was an entertaining group that did such unusual things as their own rendition of The Blues Brothers called The Booze Brothers. This included a dance called The Flying Dutchman, which kept the girls on their toes, and a dance where everyone had to get down as far as they could (which sometimes meant laying on the floor) every time they said a certain word.

This extravaganza was put on by the juniors with their magazine sales money. Because they didn't make as much as hoped for, this was the first year the faculty was not invited to the meal.

Graduation finally came . . .

On May 16, 1982, St. Paul High School held their combined Baccalaureate and Commencement program at 2:00. Sixty-three seniors received their diplomas before an overflowing crowd of family and friends.

Rev. Wayne Olson gave the invocation and benediction. Rev. Wayne Tieszen gave the main address on "Redefining Freedom." Sue Harrahill, Tonia McCord, Dawnell Owen, Pam Bahensky, and Julie McClellan sang "I Sing the Body Electric" as Mrs. Philippi accompanied on the piano while Bryan Dodds and John Olsen were on the guitars. "Through the Eyes of Love," sung by Lori Ruzicka and Donna Schimonitz, accompanied by Kristi Meyer, was the second musical selection. The Senior Choir then sang "You Must Fly."

Sheila gave a speech on the meaning of freedom.

Some smile, some look as if they can't believe it's over, and others just want to get out of those robes.

step was over.

At the close of the year
we have put it all behind us
Yet, our Thoughts Along the Way will always remain.
A tear has been shed
and we say goodbye to our friends.
And now we proceed
with our walk down the path of life.
Never to look back,
but always to hold close to our hearts
the cherished memories of the class of 1982.

Jim:

How's KSC! I bet
you're having a great time^{oo}. Keep up the good work in football! It was really nice getting to know such neat people
like you and Suzy.
Joe and I both enjoyed your visits. Remember to stop by anytime.

Tim

Well it's been 1 year and 17 days so far. This past year has been great. I know we have a lot more great times ahead of us. We have had some very special times together. It's really different without you here. I miss you very much. This past summer was really lonely for me. I wanted to be with you all the time. But all your letters, cards, pictures and phone calls kept me going. I'm really glad that you wrote me so often. Your letters were so sweet. I loved them, and I love you to. I remember that last year I was writing in your annual. I remember I didn't know what to write. But you know me, I'm a big mouth. Hope you don't get tired of my talking. Anyway I love you Tim. You're a very special guy to me, and I can honestly say that I'll never let my Babe go. I really love you. Gosh, I really miss not seeing you in the Halls and between classes. But, anyway, I really love you and I will always. You're very special to me.

Love always
Suzie
